

Dear AP students

It has proven beneficial over the past several years for some MLW Governor’s School AP classes to meet before the official opening of school to get a head start on the very large task they are trying to accomplish by the beginning of May. Other teachers, no less committed to your success, may feel that the material can successfully be mastered without the need of this extra time. This program is voluntary and efforts will be made for those students who cannot attend, to master the material covered through readings or other means. The school can neither provide transportation nor lunch. We hope you will make every effort to attend.

The room number where you will be meeting is indicated in the time block in which you will be meeting. This is followed by the dates you will be meeting in parentheses. Please note the days of meeting carefully as it is not the same for all classes. There are five of you with two classes meeting at the same time which can be resolved as indicated at the bottom of this page.

On Tuesday at 3:15, there will be a special essay writing workshop led by Ryan Hargraves from UVA in the forum. Coaches have indicated that they will accommodate this with late or canceled practices.

A document indicating the period order of your classes will be mailed to you in early August.
