

SICK LEAVE

1. Eligibility

The following employees can earn sick leave:

- a. A full-time employee.
- b. A part-time employee who works 50% or more of a full-time contract period except substitute employees and seasonal coaches.

2. Accumulation of Sick Leave

Sick leave shall be credited in the following manner:

- a. A full-time employee shall earn leave at the rate of one day for each month of contracted employment.
- b. A part-time employee who works 50% or more of a full-time contract earns sick leave in proportion to the length of the contract day.
- c. Sick leave may be accumulated without limit. The following schedule is used to compute sick leave accumulations for the initial calendar month in which the employee is appointed:
 - I. Annual sick leave will be front loaded at the beginning of each contract period for all eligible employees. Employees leaving before the end of their contract and having taken sick leave not earned will have an equivalent rate deducted from their separation pay.
 - II. A full-time employee hired on or before the 10th of the month, one sick leave day is earned.
 - III. A full-time employee hired between the 11th through the 20th of the day, one-half day is earned.
 - IV. A full-time employee hired on or after the 21st of the month, no sick leave day is earned.
 - V. An eligible non-exempt part-time employee proportionally follows this computation.
- d. A full-time less than 12-month employee who fulfills all the obligations of his or her contract earns one sick leave day in June.

3. Proof of Illness

As the director is responsible for overseeing sick leave privileges, the director or designee may require a certificate from a physician at any time.

A physician's certificate is required in every case of absence of three (3) or more consecutive days. This certificate shall state the kind and nature of the illness or injury and that the employee has been incapacitated from work for the period of absence. When such proof of illness is required and not presented, the absence may be considered leave without pay.

Following six (6) weeks of sick leave, the employee shall submit additional certification from his/her physician that his/her physical condition requires further absence. Medical certification may be required under the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) for any sick leave determined to be FMLA leave.

4. Reinstatement of Sick Leave Credit

- A. If an employee is on an approved leave of absence without pay for ten (10) or more working days in any calendar month, sick leave is not accrued for that month and will be deducted from the subsequent year's annual accrual advancement totals. Upon return to work from an approved leave without pay, the employee is entitled to resume normal accruals.
- B. If an employee is re-employed after separation of less than three (3) years, previously earned sick leave credits shall be reinstated provided the employee did not receive a pay out of 'sick leave hours' at the time of termination.

7. Illness in the Family

An employee may use up to ten (10) days of accumulated or anticipated sick leave per academic year for illness in the immediate family except in the case of a life-threatening or debilitating illness or injury.
